

STAFF TRAINING IN ALBANIA 2022

Organizers: UNIMED, Mediterranean Universities Union

In the framework of VALEU-X Project, on November 8th, 2022 UNIMED, Mediterranean Universities Union organized the Staff Training at “Fan S. Noli” University, Korçë, Albania.

“Overview of the EU programmes for international cooperation and internationalization at home as main relevant funding opportunities for Albanian staff, Basic principles on funding from the European Union as essential info for project planning; Building Partnership Consortia” were the three main topics of this Workshop.

The aim of the Workshop:

- To introduce participants to develop competences on planning, writing and managing EU project proposals
- To empower Albanian partner university staff and increase their confidence in applying for international projects

The activity of the Workshop was designed in the form of presentations and discussions, where the participants involved by sharing their ideas and experiences on projects. It was also presented a project proposal prepared by UNIMED, in order to share more practical information related to the structure and its application. The trainer of the Workshop contributed to increasing knowledge and improving the participants’ practical skills related to the management of the project ideas and the application process, passing from the idea of a project to write a good proposal, raising awareness on writing projects and financial reporting.
